This upheaval would include, but not be limited to, parental divorce, a death in the family, serious illness or injury to the student, drug or alcohol rehabilitation, or a serious family problem. Failure to achieve a 2.0 GPA during the probationary quarter would render the student ineligible during all subsequent quarters until he/she raises his/her GPA to 2.0 for a quarter.

The principal shall establish a selected site review board consisting of the following certified school personnel: an administrator, athletic or activities director, counselor, and a teacher not currently teaching, coaching or advising the student under consideration.

The appeals board shall be convened within five (5) school days of the filing of the appeal by a parent/guardian and will render a decision within five (5) school days following the date of the appeal.

If the student had a subsequent failure to achieve a 2.0 grade point average, the appeal process would be conducted by Educational Services and would require evidence of significant upheaval as defined above.
